

The WorkSource – Midtown Open House

The WorkSource- Midtown held an open house on October 23rd to introduce the office to the community, City of Houston officials and the media. The event was well attended and Houston Mayor Bill White was the featured speaker. Midtown is the first fully functional career office located within a homeless shelter in the country. In addition to employment services, Houston's homeless population can also take advantage of SEARCH support services, which include a full-scale medical clinic, on-site housing, case management services, mental health counseling, and a day shelter with showers, meals, laundry facilities, as well as mail and telephone services.

